LABORATORY SESSIONS 2008, INCLUDING TIMETABLE

Some courses at Levels 2 and 3 require students to undertake laboratory sessions at some time during the semester. These sessions may not appear on the timetable for On Line enrolment. They have been omitted to enable an easier On Line Enrolment process for students.

Most laboratory sessions are timetabled from week 2, but students are not required to attend every session every week. The Lecturer will draw up a program showing when each student will take the necessary laboratory sessions, and this information will be given to students at some time during the first two weeks of the semester.

The following table lists the courses which have laboratory sessions, and how many sessions. When the student list for laboratories is distributed, double degree students should contact the lecturer if the time shown for their session will clash with a lecture from another course.
